Our Sample Programs

Each activity is designed to involve and engage both teachers and students through provoking initiatives and character-building challenges, all with a valid educational purpose.

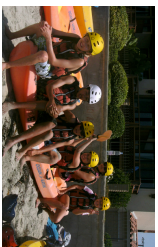

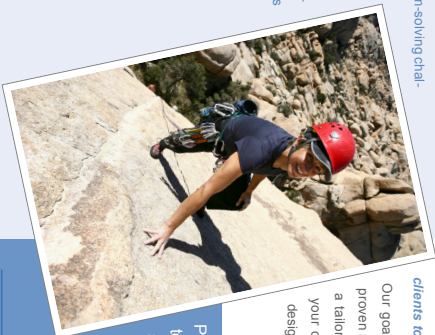

Some of the most popular workshops and activities from which you can choose, in what is a very flexible program, developed individually to meet your school's specific needs:

School retreats We bring to our school retreat and outdoor education programs the same careful attention to learning outcomes that has made us successful in the corporate experience-based training and development fields.

Personal and group effectiveness retreats teach vital skills for success, and provide guided practice sessions by caring, experienced facilitators—emotional intelligence, self-confidence, leadership, character development, and citizenship. These programs often emphasize, augment, and anchor academic curricula or other trainings in the organization.

Naturalist, natural history, and field sciences programs also create an opportunity for students to learn through a unique hands-on approach. In these programs, Positive Adventur's skilled staff complement their trademark, problem-solving challenges with environmental education. Programs with backpacking, climbing, or canoeing components add hundreds of spectacular venues and more activities from which to learn.

Allow us to introduce ourselves

Positive Adventur's, LLC, is pleased to announce a recent expansion to our Outdoor Education Programming Department. We have teamed up with your previous Outdoor provider, and by uniting two industry leaders, we are uniquely positioned to provide California's schools with the most comprehensive set of Outdoor Education solutions available.

The resulting program portfolio will include solutions for building life skills, promoting environmental stewardship, developing peer relationships, engaging critical thinking and studying the natural world around us. Our goal is to continue delivering innovative, high-quality programs where your previous Outdoor Education provider has left off. To accomplish this, we will adhere to the established program road maps for our existing solutions while simultaneously exploring opportunities to provide you with additional value in new areas.

What this means for you

Although Positive Adventur's and your previous provider have separate histories, we have always shared a common objective: to ensure the absolute satisfaction of each of our clients.

Positive Adventur's remains dedicated to this objective while welcoming new clients to a fresh, new approach to already established programs.

Our goal is to combine the best of previous program philosophies with our own proven methods to ensure compatibility with your unique curriculum. By providing a tailor-made solution to your individual needs, Positive Adventur's safeguards your own good name and promotes your objectives at the core of a custom designed Outdoor Education program.

Positive Adventur's, LLC, recognizes the need to learn from successes and deviations from expedited outcomes and encourages clients to both report these instances and provide feedback. This is an essential part of our continuous improvement. As we integrate the past successes of your previous Outdoor Education provider into our own philosophy, we'd like to hear how we can improve the program you're accustomed to.

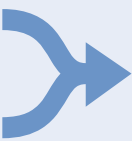

We'd like the opportunity to discuss missed or met expectations from your past programs and show you how Positive Adventur's can beat your expectations for the future.

Why Choose Outdoor Education

The hands-on approach

Hands-on field activities bring the classroom to life. Positive Adventur's introduces students to numerous academic disciplines through challenge, encouragement and success!

A hands-on approach requires students to become active participants instead of passive learners. By engaging in group cooperation, teambuilding activities, and goalsetting, students develop critical thinking skills and the ability to apply not only what they have learned, but more importantly, the process of learning, to various life situations.

Research shows science scores improve by up to 27%

In 2005 the California Department of Education conducted a study on the effects of Outdoor Education Programs for students.*

Students who participated in the programs showed significantly higher gains in cooperation and conflict resolution skills compared with students who did not participate. Teachers reported significantly larger gains in self-esteem, conflict resolution, relationships with peers, problem-solving skills, motivation to learn, and positive classroom behavior among children who attended. Participants in the outdoor school programs significantly improved their science scores by 27 percent, as measured by a pre- and post-survey.

Positive Adventures melds a sense of youthful excitement and enthusiasm with professionally crafted experiences incorporating some of the most comprehensive, exciting, and inspirational activities into each of our programs.

Healthy families and confident children help enrich our community and society. Even in the most nurturing family environment, cultivating courage and individualization for adolescent children can be a daunting task because so much happens outside of the home.

Positive Adventures is partnered with dozens of community-based organizations throughout the region to bring them smart and impactful programming.
