Dig It? Take a quick quiz to find out what careers you might like!

You're a dependable group leader

You are responsible and good at helping groups run well. You are a dependable person. You stick by your friends and they trust you for it. You take rules seriously, mostly because rules were made for a reason and you don't want to get in trouble. You show up to classes and activities on time and have basic expectations that other people should show up on time, too. You are a practical person and willing to work hard to make sure the job gets done right.

You are likely to rise to a level of responsibility in your career in whatever path you choose, and you have a good chance to succeed in various roles if you work hard and play smart. There are many career paths that would suit you well; although you may be more drawn to careers with lots of structure, as you'll likely want to be in charge. An executive-level businessperson, leader of a school or director of a government agency would all be good choices.
